

IntelliQuote: The Company:

An industry leader in the online life insurance business, IntelliQuote helps consumers purchase affordable life insurance by making the buying process easy and convenient. Through our innovative and intuitive website, we help people search and compare prices and policies from the top insurance carriers in the nation (www.Intelliquote.com). During our twelve year history, we have placed over 100,000 policies and hundreds of families each month trust and rely on us to find and place new policies to protect themselves and their families.

IntelliQuote: The Opportunity:

At IntelliQuote, we use internet based, cutting edge marketing techniques to generate and deliver the most qualified life insurance leads in the business, and our sales agents work exclusively with prescreened, interested prospects who have reached out to us.

Once our sales agents have completed the sale, our case managers work with the client to complete their application and schedule their medical examination. They continue to work with this client through the underwriting process and the insurance policy being sent to the client. This gives our case managers a real chance to work with their clients and give a world class customer service experience.

IntelliQuote: Join Our Team:

At IntelliQuote we take great pride in the service we provide and we are very selective about who we choose to join our team. To qualify as an IntelliQuote case manager you must have at least 3 years of successful case management experience, some over the phone sales experience and be driven to provide excellent service to our clients through the whole application process.

You must also possess strong communication skills, an outgoing personality, good computer skills, a positive attitude and a strong work ethic! In addition, you must be able to thrive in a fast paced environment, have excellent time-management skills, and be able to follow a scripted application.

Intelliquote: What to Expect:

In our fast paced environment our licensed in-house case managers answer in-bound calls from clients and agents as well as stay current on their cases in underwriting with several insurance carriers. Your day on the phones will be spent speaking to agents that are transferring new clients to complete their applications, following up on clients and carriers on pending applications and reaching out to clients that have received policies and/or have questions. You must be well organized and have the ability to manage and service several call campaigns as well as using "follow ups" in our data management system in a timely manner. Your good computer and time management skills as well as dedication to detail are crucial to you succeeding with IntelliQuote.

Because of the complexity of the insurance industry, you must be able to learn new concepts quickly, enjoy being on the phone and thrive on meeting or exceeding goals. You must also feel comfortable with people monitoring you and listening to your calls throughout the day. All calls will be recorded for training purposes, and you will receive periodic feedback and coaching. We hope you are ready to excel in your case management career and are ready to do all you can to become the best case management professional possible. If so, then you will love the opportunity to grow and succeed here at IntelliQuote. Please note this position is not open to telecommuting. All positions conduct work from our El Dorado Hills facility.

IntelliQuote: Our Invitation to You:

At Intelliquote, we are dedicated to our clients, our industry and to you! Here at Intelliquote you will get to work with all sorts of interesting people as you help them achieve their life insurance needs. If you sincerely enjoy helping people and like to work at a fast pace with other diverse professionals in a challenging and fun environment, then IntelliQuote offers you a lifetime of opportunity!
